> THE WATER SUPPLY. per on in Second Ward" Rises to Answe

Entrops or INTELLIGENCER_I had cought not to trouble you with another mmunication, but would ask your in-signoe for this, the last. It will be belied that the article published in the New Era as an answer to my first communication is no answer at all, but an attempt to throw the public off the track, to blind them as to the true facts, and a experate effort to save the Republican arry of this city from a just criticism of seir stewardship, and the just odium they the water works fraud. They cannot scape from it, and must stand the consquences of their costly and extravagant I did not condemn the purchase of the ow six-million pump, but in view of the set that the 3,000,000 gallon pump could, and did, more than fill the storage capacity m hand, that it would have been wiser and er to have laid by that fund (amountng in all to some $30,000) towards erecting more storage capacity. The very argument of the New Era in favor of pumping capa-city, the possibility of breaking down of se pumps, is ten-fold stronger when ap-tied to an ample reserve supply, because ou may have half a dozen pumps, and a to calamity may betail them all, whereas, the large and ample reserve on hand, we could not be so much at the mercy offense at my calling the removaof the water works "a fraud." and its in other. The idea of the condul to that point is is lame becoming clogged up is far fetched and overstrained. The writer of that idea is case who verily would "choke at a gnat and swallow a camel." There would abaly be no more danger of such a supply dait filling or choking with mud or dirt an there would the main pipes leading an the pump to the basin, or the service pipes distributed throughout the city, or the sewers. It would have to be looked atter and attended to as any other part of works, as a matter of course. It was not pointed out, as the New Era says, by Engineer Croes, as a source of difficulty, but on the other hand he said that the water id be just as well conveyed by this us to the pumpe, as to move the works se far as getting clean water was concerned. I was there myself and when the engineer ted a conduit of wrought iron, I suggested a conduit of wrought iron, I dropped an inquiry whether it would not be better to have it made of cast iron. The answer was, " yes, certainly." But this did not suit the members of the committee, and they " went" for the entire removal of the plant. And how well they succeeded, and how happy they were over it, and how exalted and high they felt (in their own extination) can be seen. If any one will take the trouble and visit this monument of stupid folly, by casting their eyes up sowards the top of the building and looking at the marble siab entombed in its walls with arble slab entombed in its walls, with be names of this wonderful committee d thereon, informing the present on that they erected the" hebang," ed also that posterity may know the milders hereof, and honor them. But the Era does rot enlighen us subject of the abandonat of the water power. This, after all, and consequent expenses by utilizing the old water power. The "high duty" conern is but one of the methods of pulling the wool over the eyes of the dear public.

The New Era admits frankly and candidly storage supply is the proper and in the only safe reliance, but says "we ants must creep before we can walk. ment is unnecessary. Putting the city a uncalled for expense, nay an utterly expense, an expense that will yield ing in return, an extravagant and worse foolish expense that will entail upon so city a system of pumping water that will set more than three times per gallon what sver did before. And the water will be ist as muddy, just as dirty and just as ithy as ever. Selah? Is it not a "good thing" for coal dealers? Should they not asppy ? Such things didn't used to be," said an

STOPPED ON THE BOAD. Three Men Rob a Pretrol Baker on the New Holland Pike.

Holland Pike.

Henry Weber, a pretabl baker, who formerly resided in this city, but is now engaged in business at Terre Hill, had a thrilling experience on Saturday night. His story is as follows: He left his home on Friday and visited different parts of the county selling goods. He resched Sisuffer's hotel at Eden, on the New Holland pike, Saturday evening. After remaining pike, Saturday evening. After remaining there some time he left about 11 o'clock. He had not gone far away he was met by three men, who stopped his horse and saked him whether he did not want to buy rom their pockets and shook them in his from their pockets and shook them in his face. After that he remembered nothing until he awoke at an early hour Sundsy morning. He was lying along the pike and had been robbed of all the money that bleeding from a small wound on the back of his head and his horse and buggy were gone. He walked back to Stauffer's hotel and then came to this city, but was unable to find his horse. Sunday forenoon he returned to his home and came to Lancaster this morning when he recovered his team. At an early hour on Sunday morning Harry G. Hirsh found the horse and buggy stand-ing against a post near the Penn-sylvania railroad station, this city. He examined the buggy and found that pretzels had been hauled in it. Mr. Hirsh took the team to the stable of his brother at the City hotel, where it was kept until this norning when Mr. Weber identified it.

Mr. Weber thinks that the men who at tacked him had chloroform or some other drug on the handkerchiefs, which they flung in his face, rendering him unconclous. It is altogether likely that the men who stopped Weber were from this city and after they had stolen his money they

Punished a Witness to His Crime. A dispatch from Sunbury, Pa., says that George Welker, a prisoner in the Northumberland jall, tells a very interesting story in connection with the theft of the package of money from the Adams Express com pany by Huber, one of its agents. Welker comes from one of the best families in that section, and is serving a sentence for an alleged attempted assault on Huber's youngest daughter. He says that about the time the mouey was stolen he was stand-ing in front of the express office, heard a sound as though some one was opening a sound as though some one was opening a safe, and on turning round saw Huber with a package in his hand.

Huber, according to Welker's story, thought the latter suspected him, and never spoke to him again. Soon after Welker was arrested, after having been on a spree, charged by Huber with assaulting his daughter. Welker denies that he even intended any harm, and says he did not touch the girl. He also says that Huber attempted to have his sentence increased from two to five years so as to get rid of a man who might be a troublesome witness against him. Welker wrote to the president of the express company in January last, told him what he had seen, and Huber's arrest and the recovery of most of the stolen money was the result.

The Knights of Pythias Adjourn

The Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias adjourned sine die in Cincinnati on Satur-Pythias Sisterhood, but thought the same purposes could be accomplished if women established and governed their own order. A resolution of consure was adopted sgainst ex Acjutant General Joseph Dowdail, of Ohio, for statements concerning the Su-preme Chancellor Douglass and Major General Carnahan. The next conclave will be held at Milwaukee on the second Tues-day of June, 1896.

A Slight Fire.

This afternoon about 1 o'clock fire was discovered by Michael J. Groff in the basement of the Memorial Presbyterian church. Without striking a general alarm the flames were extinguished with a few buckets of water.

A Colored Campmeeting.

A number of colored people of this city held a campmeeting in Conrad's woods, near the Union, Providence township, Sanday. The attendance was good until the rain came up and drove the people away. The services were conducted by Revs. Harris, of this city, and Wilson, of Harrisburg.

Notwegtan Pontes. Richard Sales, of this city, attended the large auction of horses at Easton's Horse and Cattle Exchange, in Madison Square garden, New York, last week. He purchased a lot of Norwegian ponies, which he has brought to Lancaster. They include a stallion, two pairs of marcs and a colt. One pair of mares were imported by the late Henry Havemyer. All the animals are cream colored and very pretty. They attracted considerable attention on our streets this morning.

A Specessful Festival. The lestival for the benefit of St. Paul's M. E. church, at Odd Fellows' hall, closed on Saturday evening. There was a large attendance. A handsome sum was realized, and it will be used in the payment of the debt contracted for necessary repairs ma le to the church.

The First Reformed Festival. The strawberry festival of the Ladies Aid society of the First Reformed church closed in Central hall, Centre Square, after very successful run of two days. A very considerable sum of money was realized for the treasury of the society, and a very pleasant time was had by the large number of people who patronized the festival. Siight Fire Sunday Evening. There was a slight fire in the roof of s frame building on West Marion street, between Arch alley and Water street formly occupied by A. Kepner as a cigar setory, Sunday evening about 7 o'clock It was extinguished by persons in the neighborhood before any damage of conscquence was done. The fire was caused by an electric light wire which had become slack and dropped on the root. An Unprovoked Assault. John H. Roth, of East Lampeter township, has been prosecuted before Alderman of the Fertility hotel on Saturday when own fragrance.

An Excursion to Mt Gretna.

An excursion, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows will be run to Mt. Gretna from this city, on Thursday, August 2, and a large picnic will be held at this popular resynt. Taylor's orchestra has been engaged to accompany the excursion and furnish the dancing music. A good band will also be taken along. Special trains will leave this over the Pennsylvania railroad and at noon of that day.

Union Building Association.

The monthly meeting of the Union Building and Loan association will be held at the solicitor's office this (Monday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.
